Profile

I'm a curious and driven individual with a background in statistics, data analysis, and full-stack software development. I'm seeking an opportunity in a forward-thinking team where I can utilize my skills effectively, continue learning, and advance my career. I've worked with data, built software, and supported administrative teams, so I'm comfortable wearing many hats. I enjoy solving problems, paying close attention to details, and finding efficient ways to accomplish tasks.
